Tan-Tan is an athletic and friendly kid who loves to play basketball. Because of several reasons he repeated 1st grade three times. The first time he stopped was because he lost interest in school as his teacher seldom came to teach. But now he is doing well in school. He is inquisitive and is never ashamed to ask question when he does not know the answer. He is determined to finish his studies and is working out towards that goal. The tribal leaders have also repeatedly told the children and young people in the community to work hard in school because someday they will be the ones to govern their community.

Tan-Tan is aware of the perilous situation that the forest in their area is in right now. It is only in Gumitan, where he lives, that there is a good forest and he wants to preserve it by educating his people. Because of this reason Tan-Tan wants to take up Forest Management.
